2024 NAWIC QLD AWARDS FOR EXCELLENCE

Nomination Booklet

FROM THE QUEENSLAND PRESIDENT'S DESK

Welcome to another incredible Awards Program for the National Association of Women in Construction Queensland. Year on year our awards continue to grow and the quality of award applications are by far the most exceptional within the industry. As the NAWIC QLD President, it is my honour to introduce the Queensland 2024 NAWIC Awards for Excellence for another year!

NAWIC was formed in 1995 and since then has been the peak industry body working with government, member corporations, employers, industry associations and unions to unlock the potential of women working within the construction industry and increase female representation across both frontline and professional roles. NAWIC QLD's vision is to 'illuminate pathways, advocate for and support fulfilling careers within all roles within construction for females, contributing to the betterment of the Queensland construction industry.'

Our Awards for Excellence are an annual tradition and is recognised as the penultimate awards ceremony in QLD within the construction industry which we are very proud to deliver. The awards in 2024 will bring together, a record attendance of over 1,000 attendees to mark milestones, reward and showcase Queensland female industry role models, and foster a culture where we strive for excellence by celebrating in our female peers' successes. This year's theme is "Find your Voice" as women we have unique traits that bring so much value to the workplace. We are caring, empathetic, understanding and bring diverse and innovative thought processes to the table. We are proud of these traits and at NAWIC QLD we have found our voice to make a real difference in this amazing construction industry that we all work in and want to invest in the future for the advancement of women within this industry.

The NAWIC QLD Chapter continues to invest and support a multi-faceted approach to support females and males in the QLD construction industry to attract, promote and retain a high calibre of candidates through dedicated strategies including education initiatives, networking events, mentoring programs, diversity training, TAFE, university & Company Director scholarships, women in trade programs, site tours, executive business lunches and our recent regional expansion across North Queensland and future expansions across the State during 2024.

The majority of NAWIC QLD initiatives are delivered by a dedicated team of over 60 volunteers that I am immensely proud to work alongside. I strongly encourage you to either nominate yourselves or an incredible colleague in the 2024 Awards for Excellence and we look forward to celebrating excellence across the Queensland Construction industry with you all in 2024.

With support and admiration to all nominees this year.
